

CONGRESS IN SESSION AT WASHINGTON TODAY

The Fifty-Seventh General Assembly for the United States Begins an Important Regular Meeting at the Stroke of Noon.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TOMORROW

Senate Adjourned on Account of the Death of Senator Kyle—House Organized and Adjourned to Await the Message of Roosevelt.

Washington, December 2.—According to the alphabetical list the first man in the new house of representatives is Acheson of Pennsylvania and the last is Zenor of Indiana. There are no members whose names begin with "Q" or "X" but there are forty-three "S's."

Practically a full attendance was on hand to take part in the opening exercises in the senate today. Before ten o'clock the public began to file into the galleries and many early comers were sitting patiently in their chairs for two hours before the stars appeared on the floors.

The ladies shimmered in picturesque colors and the galleries took on a striking appearance. On the floor the desks of members added to the ensemble by their borders of flowers. A greater number of visitors flocked to the house side owing to the knowledge that the senate proceeding would be short.

House Called to Order

The house was called to order at the stroke of twelve by Clerk McDownell.

At one o'clock D. B. Henderson was declared elected speaker of the house of representatives of the Fifty-seventh congress. Henderson made a brief speech of thanks and at one o'clock was sworn in by Congressman Bingham of Pennsylvania, the oldest member in point of service.

SENATE AND HOUSE PROGRAM

Organization of Both Houses of Congress.—President's Message Tomorrow

Washington, D. C., December 2.—Congress did not adjourn today as a mark of respect for the late President McKinley, because congress will not have official notice of President McKinley's death until it is communicated by President Roosevelt. The president will not send his message to congress until tomorrow. He supposed that congress would adjourn immediately after the organization to show respect for the dead president, but some of the senators have been looking up precedents, and they find that there is no precedent for an adjournment as a mark of respect for President McKinley.

There was no adjournment when congress met after the death of President Lincoln and President Garfield. Both died during the recess of congress, or after the expiration of one congress and before the organization of another. In both instances Congress, when it met, appointed committees to prepare suitable memorials. This will be the program in the Fifty-seventh congress.

The senate adjourned shortly after meeting on account of the death of Senator Kyle.

The house organized and then adjourned because it has no business until the president's message is received.

Program in the Senate

Wednesday and Thursday in the senate will be devoted to the introduction of new bills, and as usual there will be a flood of them. Among the first bills of importance to be presented will be the ship subsidy bill, which will be introduced by Senator Frye, and the Nicaragua canal bill, which Senator Morgan will present. Senator Frye has not entirely completed his bill, but he said today that it would be different in many details from the old bill of last session. That measure was framed by former Senator Edmunds.

Senator Morgan's canal bill will be a duplicate of Representative Hepburn's bill on the canal question.

Other early bills of importance will be one looking to the construction of a submarine cable from the western coast to Hawaii, and another providing for the establishment of a new executive department to be known as the Department of Commerce.

On Thursday the senate will adjourn until the following Monday.

The general opinion among senators is that very little real work will be done before the Christmas holidays. The first subject demanding attention is reciprocity. Various treaties are now pending in the senate looking to commercial agreements between the United States and other countries.

Opening Day in the House

The program for the opening of the House today, although it followed rigidly routine precedents, was interesting, and, to a certain extent, picturesque. Admission to the galleries were by card of which two were issued to each member and they were crowded to their fullest capacity. The desks of the popular members were laden with flowers. The clerk of the house called the members to order at noon and after prayer by the chaplain, the roll was called by states.

The speaker was formally elected and escorted to the chair by a committee. General Henderson, whose re-election as speaker was assured, then addressed the house, after which Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania, "the father of the House," a titular honor bestowed upon the oldest member in point of continuous service, administered the oath to him. The speaker in turn administered the oath to the members elect. The old officers of the house who were re-elected by the republican caucus, then were re-elected and sworn in.

Following this resolutions were adopted appointing committees to inform the president and the senate that he house has elected General Henderson speaker and Mr. McDowell clerk. By resolution, Speaker Henderson then appointed a committee from the senate to inform the president that a quorum of the two houses has assembled and that congress is ready to receive any communication he may have to make. Resolutions to adopt temporarily the rules of the last house and to fix the daily hour of meeting also preceded the event of the opening day, the annual seat drawing.

After Tuesday the house will probably adjourn three days at a time until Congress recesses for the Christmas holidays. Speaker Henderson will occupy this time preparing his committee lists, which will be announced as soon as the house convenes after the holidays. Probably no business will be transacted before the holidays, one head

E. H. HARRIMAN INDICTED.

Railway Magnate Accused of Violating Labor Law of New York.

New York, Dec. 2.—Edward H. Harriman of Pacific railroad fame, vast stock operator and director in nearly a score of railroad corporations from Maine to California, and one of the most popular millionaires in Orange county, has been indicted by the Orange grand jury with Assemblyman Louis Bedell. Their alleged violation of the law consists in having compelled the employees of the Orange County Road Construction company to work more than eight hours a day on the state roads now being built in the county. Mr. Harriman is president and Assemblyman Bedell, who was elected from the second district of Orange county, is secretary of the construction company. Recently the men engaged at work on the roads have been forced to work overtime without additional pay.

BIG FAIR IS OPENED.

Charleston Exposition Is Inaugurated with Sermons and Music.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 2.—Under the charter of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian exposition it was necessary to open the exposition gates Sunday. When Dec. 1 was named as the opening day the promoters had not consulted the calendar, and the fact that the date fell on Sunday was only discovered recently. The directors resolved to turn this fact to good account, and accordingly arranged a great concert and religious service. The formal opening was today, when President Roosevelt touched a button in Washington, setting the machinery in motion. This followed immediately the address of Senator Dewey, the principal orator of the opening day.

Boy Kills 341 Rattlesnakes.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—James Donegan, the son of J. F. Donegan, an Aurora farmer, this season broke all records in the number of rattlesnakes killed within a given time. Young Donegan was engaged all season in herding cattle near a rattlesnake den and when opportunity offered he waged war against the reptiles. The result was that during the season he killed 341 rattlesnakes. As the town's legal authorities pay a bounty of 15 cents for each set of rattles, he had added over $50 to his summer's earnings from this source.

CHICAGO BLOODED CATTLE SHOW LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT IS OPEN

Big Crowd in Crowd in Attendance Today—It is Like a Derby Turnout—Speeches Tonight by Secretary Wilson, Gov. Yates and Others.

Chicago, December 2.—In a massive pavilion, almost hidden by green and yellow decorations and flags of all nations, and attended by uniformed stable boys, nearly 13,000 powerful draft horses, sleek and fat cattle, big hogs and shaggy sheep are at home today at the International Live Stock Exposition.

They are on dress parade and will begin receiving the coveted bit of ribbon marking the prize winners.

Although yesterday was Sunday, and there were no special features offered, the Dexter Park pavilion was crowded from morning until late at night. The officials of the exposition estimated the attendance for the day to be in excess of 20,000. During the morning the crowd was composed almost entirely of men and boys, but in the afternoon the women were in the majority.

The number of equipages and the character of the turnouts around the main entrance to the exposition during the afternoon made it resemble the entrance to Washington Park on Derby day.

Today the tanbark arenas in the various departments are filled with the animals entered in the various

MISS STONE IS REPORTED DEAD; SAID HER BODY HAS BEEN FOUND

Also the Remains of Mme. Tsilka--Dispatch from the Vall of Salonica Says Remains of the Women Were Discovered Near Dubnitzka.

Vienna, Dec. 2.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Neue Freie Presse telegraphic that the bodies of Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka have been found near Dubnitzka, Bulgaria, twenty miles from Sofia. An official report from the vall of Salonica confirms the statement that the two women are dead. Their deaths apparently occurred a month ago. In commenting on the dispatch, the Neue Freie Presse says the report is possibly a mistake. A private telegram from Salonica today states: "Two versions of Miss Stone and her companion's end are current here. According to the first report Mme. Tsilka was confined under most painful circumstances at Alangere, Bulgaria, and died on the day following. Miss Stone, according to the report, died soon afterward brokenhearted and discouraged by her hardship. The second version states that both captives are alive and are being kept at Rilo monastery in Oriental Rumania, and are anxiously expecting deliverance from the brigands by the United States authorities. The authorities refuse to confirm either of these versions as to the condition of the captives. Three warships of the Russian squadron under Commander Dr. Haskell fears the worst.

London, Dec. 2.—Dr. Haskell, chief of the American mission at Samakoff, in reply to a correspondent's query whether he had received any confirmation of the report of the death of Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka, telegraphs from Samakoff at 11 a. m. Sunday as follows: "I have some proof, but not a full confirmation, of the grave news. We are sending men to learn the facts."

A MONEY CRISIS IN PHILIPPINES

People Fleeced by Bankers Who Deal in Mexican Dollars.

NEW LAWS NEEDED

The "Querida" System of Living Among Natives To Be Done Away With.

CABALLOS ON RUN

Manila, Dec. 2.—The monetary situation is causing daily losses and the situation will probably become worse until congress legislates on the currency question. In an interview published in Manila, Henry C. Ide, chief justice of the Department of Finance and Justice, referred to the probable enforcement of an alteration in the immediate future, of the present government party of two Mexican dollars for one gold dollar.

The United States postoffice here now refuses, except to government employees, to issue money orders in exchange for Mexican silver. The banks of Manila have been making from 5 to 8 per cent on exchange. Merchants and others are forced to carry their accounts in Mexican silver. Governor Taft's condition has improved, though he suffers somewhat since the second operation was performed. He expects to sail with his family for the United States about December 20.

"Querida" System Must Go

The police have decreed that the "querida" system of living which is followed by many of the natives must be done away with. Attempts are being made to inaugurate an inspection system, which is designed to terminate the common custom of living in an unmarried state, which is locally known as the "querida" system. The natives resent any interference with the custom, which is ancient and widespread, and which, though illegal, imposes recognized responsibility upon those following it.

Several small engagements have occurred in Bantazas province in the last few days. The forces of the insurgent leader Caballos have become badly demoralized. His followers are broken up into several small bands. Caballos holds two American prisoners.

Approaching Elections

The commission on municipal laws and regulations are about to change the terms of office for municipal councilors. It has decided that members of the United States army and navy cannot vote.

The commission on municipal laws and regulations are about to change the terms of office for municipal councilors. It has decided that members of the United States army and navy cannot vote.

In the approaching elections at Ilo-Ilo, Panny Island, there are four candidates for the mayoralty and fifty-seven candidates to fill six vacancies among the city councilmen. In these elections the American candidates will probably be elected by solid American vote.

Troops Back From Manila

New York, December 2.—The United States transport Buford arrived today from Manila with eight companies of the Twenty-third United States Infantry, companies A to H, 501 enlisted men, non-commissioned staff and band, and thirty-seven officers, under command of Colonel J. Milton Thompson. There were also 115 discharged soldiers and government employees on board. The men are in good spirits and glad to get home.

HORSE, BUGGY AND HARNESS STOLEN

Barn of John Golden, Town of Rock, Was Entered by a Horse Thief Last Night.

Evidently Charles J. W. Augreilas, who was lately sent to state prison for stealing harnesses and who was suspected of being one of the sharp-shooters in this country, was not the only man operating in Rock county.

John Golden, residing on Section 23 in the town of Rock, about four miles south of here, came to the city this morning and reported to the sheriff that some one had entered his barn during the night and made off with a horse, buggy and harness.

Mr. Golden is of the opinion that the outfit was taken about ten o'clock last night as he thought he heard someone about the premises but could discover nothing wrong.

The officers of the different towns have been notified of the theft and a description of the missing outfit sent out. The country is being searched by the police but so far no trace of the rig has been discovered. The man evidently was an expert at the business and was away from the scene of the theft before it is discovered. It is not unlikely that he could get to some safe hiding place before the officers could be notified.

The horse is described as being brown, with two white hind feet, weighs about 1,050 pounds, with a spot on nose and hair rubbed off on the right hip.

The thief hitched the horse to an old phaeton buggy and harnessed him with half of a double harness. The whole rig is one that would be likely to attract attention along the road on account of the buggy and harness.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW CITY HALL

Stone Work is Now Nearing Completion—Roof Will Be on the Building by Christmas.

The stone work on the new city hall is now nearing completion. The stone setters have reached the top of the window frames on the second story and have only about six feet more to set to reach the end.

The contractors expect to have the roof of the building in place by Christmas if they are favored with good weather. The work is now being rushed along with that end in view. A new sixty foot derrick has just been completed to be used in setting the large steel columns for the tower. They expected to have the columns in place today.

Mr. James Rowson, the senior member of the firm arrived in the city today to look after the work on the building. He expressed himself as very well satisfied with the progress made so far. The building has now reached a stage in its construction where it begins to show what the completed building will be like. When completed it will be one of the most imposing structures of its kind in the state, and will be a building, both inside and outside that the city can feel proud of.

"At Last We're Married."

E. T. Fish's day laden with elaborately decorated trunks, made conspicuously by long white streamers and placards in abundance and topped off with a huge sign bearing the words, "At Last We're Married," made a parade of the entire First ward yesterday afternoon. This unique procession meant that M. C. Fish and bride had returned from Chicago yesterday noon and that although they had succeeded in eluding the vigilant eyes and had reached their home at 357 Ravine street in undisturbed peace, their baggage had fallen into the hands of their friends who proceeded to the best of their ability to pay off old scores. Mr. and Mrs. Fish also found the interior of their home nicely decorated as a token of the remembrance of fond relatives and friends.

SEVENTEEN MEN FELL VICTIMS

Deadly Work of Stray Bullets During Deer Hunting Season.

MANY WOUNDED

It is Estimated That Over 2,000 Hunters Were Out After the Game.

NEED OF LEGISLATION

Seventeen bullets fired by hunters—principally deer hunters—during the season, which ended at midnight Saturday, went astray and lodged in the bodies of men with fatal effect. Thirty-three others were shot, more or less seriously of which there is a record, while one man is missing and is believed to have been killed in some lonely spot in the woods, where his body now reposes.

The Northern Wisconsin woods during the season prescribed by law for hunting these animals fairly rang with rifle reports and the sharp, stinging whizz of bullets. It is estimated that 2,000 hunters were out after game, and in view of this the wonder is that more farmers, citizens and laborers and others who were exposed were not shot.

Some Legislation Needed

It has been repeatedly suggested during the past thirty days that the state legislature take steps of a prohibitory nature tending to lessen the existing danger to humans and beasts but in the opinion of many this is beyond the province of the law-making body.

"Until you legislate it into the heads of the hunters that they must not shoot until they know what they are shooting at there will be no way of decreasing the number of fatalities," was the statement of a man who has followed the subject closely. Shortly after the opening of the season near Ashland, Wis., the hunters were so numerous and prone to shoot at anything they saw moving in the woods that cattle, horses, sheep and even the lowly swine were shot down ruthlessly. One farmer in this vicinity who set great store by a herd of blooded cows drove them from the field and to a village six miles away, where they were quartered in a livery stable until the season was over.

It was there that hunters adopted the red shirt to be worn over the hunting coat, that any serious mistake might be avoided.

Against Long Range Rifles.

After the open season for deer hunting, which came to an end at midnight Saturday, the new law does not stand untried, although it seems to have been fairly satisfactory in a general way. Minor amendments have been suggested by the hunters and the state officials. The need of a law regulating the use of long-range rifles has suggested itself to the minds of many well-posed men, and there seems to be little doubt that such a law will be introduced at the next session of the legislature. Several hunters have expressed themselves to that effect in the last few days.

MILWAUKEE MAN'S SUDDEN SUMMONS

Henry J. Baumgartner, Former Council President and Candidate for Mayor, Passes Away.

Milwaukee, Dec. 2.—Henry J. Baumgartner, one of the best known citizens of Milwaukee, who has been a candidate for mayor and who was widely known through his connection with many important municipal projects, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, 686 Twelfth street of heart failure.

In the death of Henry J. Baumgartner Milwaukee loses one of the most conspicuous figures in the public life of the city for the last twenty-five years. He was a leader in the common council, and was one of the strongest men that has ever asked the people of a city for their votes. His friends and enemies alike recognized his high purposes, and his honesty and his good-services to the city.

CHINESE TO FIGHT EXCLUSION

Proclamation by Six Companies Calls for an Assessment of $1.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 2.—The Chinese are preparing to make a vigorous fight against the re-enactment of the Geary exclusion law. A proclamation has been issued by the Chinese Six Companies requiring every Chinese in the United States to contribute to the sum of $1, the fund thus raised to be used in the effort to defeat exclusion.

Least some should seek to evade the enforced contribution the proclamation adds that Chinese desiring to return to China will be compelled to exhibit a receipt showing that they have made payment and in default of such receipt they will be fined $10. The proclamation has been posted in Chinatown and is to be distributed all over the country.

QUIET ELOPEMENT HERE LAST FRIDAY

Miss Lucy Octavia Kilbey and Hugo Riess Went to Rockford, Ill., and Were Married.

A quiet elopement took place from this city last Friday and the announcement of the marriage which resulted will be a surprise to a great many friends of the interested parties. Miss Lucy Octavia Kilbey and Hugo Riess went to Rockford, Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Riess returned from Rockford to this city, Friday evening. The happy ceremony which made them man and wife was performed in Rockford by Rev. F. J. Bodman, pastor of the First Congregational church. Both young people are quite well known in this city and also in Oshkosh where both formerly resided. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Riess will make their home with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kilbey, on McKee boulevard.

The case of the state of Wisconsin vs. Hugh Tulley of Beloit for burglary, was called in the municipal court this morning. The defendant demanded a jury trial, and a jury was drawn. The court adjourned the case until 9 a. m. Tuesday morning, in order to allow the officer to get the jury together.

IN THE CASE OF BENNETT VS. LUBY

In the case of Bennett and Luby which the Gazette published in part on Saturday evening, the report was too lengthy to publish in full, and among the parts omitted was the following paragraph, which Mr. Luby desires to have included:

"11. The court also found that the apparent loss suffered in the business between March 26th and November 8th, 1897, was not a real loss but was accounted for by the false and erroneous inventory of March 24th, 1897 and that the charge made by the plaintiff that the defendant had surreptitiously taken goods or money to the amount of $2,000 or any other sum was false and malicious. Examination of the testimony discloses ample evidence to support his finding also. It is true there is some evidence, mostly by the plaintiff himself, to support the charge, but there is not only direct but circumstantial evidence to the contrary; the evidence which sustains the finding that the inventory of March 24th was fraudulent and stuffed also directly supports this finding, for it is only by comparison with this inventory that he supposed loss or shortage appears."

The Gazette has no interest in this case further than as an item of news which may interest the public.

ON MAN'S DUTY TO HIS NEIGHBOR

Interesting Sermon by the Rev. J. H. Tippet, to a Large Congregation Last Evening.

From the text "Look not every man on his own things but every man also on the things of others," found in Philippians 2:4, Rev. J. H. Tippet preached an able sermon on man's duty to his neighbor to a large and interested congregation at Court street M. E. church last evening.

Paul states the principle in his own way with a radiant sanity. He does not ask people to become so carried away with thinking of others that they forget themselves. If men are able to think and act wisely for the interest of others, they must first be able to think and act wisely for their own interests. If there is otherness in a man there must also be selfishness, for man must begin his service for others in himself.

As four instances of the inverse statement of this rule, Rev. Tippet named the minister, who runs around the country as an evangelist, trying to bring about revivals for them when his own church is dead and lifeless; the woman, who harangues audiences from the public platform on domestic economy and household reform when her own home is so miserable that her husband cannot live in it with comfort; the Sunday school teacher, who is engaged in trying to educate other children in the truths of the Bible while his own are ignorant; and the man who is devoted to the affairs of state and nation while his own business goes bankrupt.

Just in proportion as a man manages his own business is he of value to the world but a person's eyes should not be so firmly glued on his own affairs that he has no time for the affairs of others. He must take an interest in the affairs of others, first of all because they are his own affairs. The type of man is common who says "I attend to my business, let my neighbor attend to his. I do not need or ask for help and I do not see why I should give any." While such a man does not appeal to people as a man of sentiment or much religion, he appears on the surface to be endowed with good common sense. Go over so little below the surface, however, and his argument becomes uncommon nonsense.

This man, who prides himself on his independence, came into his life at the risk of some woman's life and at the cost of her great agony he is bound to care for her and to see that she never has a want which he can supply until he lays her gray hairs in the grave. In youth some man made a home for him and cared for him and now he must honor and render back to his father the care given him in childhood. He is an American citizen and he entered into his inheritance of freedom and liberty at a fearful cost of self sacrifice, by men who are now dead. He is a business man and he must trust others and be trusted. As a business man he enjoys benefits from those who builded up the city. Looking back over his business life he can see times when others helped him in his need and it is right that now he should put some commission in the way of the young business man and give encouragement to some one in the time of sorrow. He was educated at some school and he owes a debt to education.

TRAMPS HAVE A BIG DINNER.

About Sixty Knights of the Road Devoured Fowl at Kenosha.

Probably the most unique Thanksgiving dinner in Wisconsin was given last Thursday afternoon at "Hobo Park," the famous resort of tramps, just south of this city. About sixty of the knights of the road attended the gathering and partook of the dinner, which was served at 2 o'clock.

Everything that was eatable was served on the long tables which had been set up by an advanced guard of the tramps, who arrived on Wednesday evening, bringing with them a cook and a host of provisions. During the morning fourteen geese, twelve turkeys, eight chickens and a small pig were slaughtered.

All the fowls and the pig were roasted in an oven which had been dug in the bank near the railway track. The dinner was presided over by "Long Tom," a well-known "hobo" from Detroit. In the afternoon a carousal was held at which six kegs of beer were devoured by the thirty tramps.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

There is the usual careful editorial summary of foreign politics in the December Review of Reviews, the special topics of the month being the passing of Li Hung Chang and the outlook in China, the projects of England and Russia in the far East and in Afghanistan, the aggressive attitude of Germany in the region of the Persian Gulf, the Balkan question, Turkish demoralization and French expedition, the place of Ireland in British politics, and the South African situation.

The leading article in the December Atlantic is a discussion of expansion through reciprocity by John Ball Osborne. Referring to President McKinley's last address Mr. Osborne continues with a brief resume of former reciprocity movements, and a survey of the present proposed treaties, closing with a strong expression of belief that our present foreign expansion cannot long continue without meeting vigorous tariff opposition from foreign governments, unless we disarm such opposition in advance by means of reciprocity.

William Garrett Brown's review of The Confederate States of America is in itself a brilliant article on that topic. Paul Elmer More enters A Plea for Crabbe, and other reviews discuss the latest work of Parker, Cable, and Hawlett.

Julia C. R. Dorr and Annie J. Flint contribute appropriate and touching Christmas poems, and the Contributors' Club is attractive as usual.

The Christmas number of the Woman's Home Companion is full of matter of sensible interest. Mrs. Larned tells how to give a Christmas dinner; there are articles descriptive of holiday entertainments, and many suggestions about the making of simple gifts. The fiction includes Charles McIlvaine's serial, "The Reincarnation of Captain John Radner," "Lady May's Adventure," "The Singleton Syndicate," and a child's Christmas story "Peter and the Green Men." A timely feature is Mr. Knight's "Uncle Sam's Coin Factory." Gustav Kolbe begins a series on "Famous Artists in Grand Opera," with a biography of Madame Nordica. There is a double page giving reproductions of famous paintings in the metropolitan museum of New York. Published by the Crowell & Kirkpatrick Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

Like the November number, the Christmas issue of Leslie's Popular Monthly is beautifully decorated with color plate illustrations and the general appearance of the magazine is notable among the monthlies. The opening article written by the famous showman, Frank C. Bostock, is illustrated by a score of sketches and finished portraits of living animals drawn from life by Chas. C. Bull. But the article which will perhaps amuse the greatest attention is written by Israel Zangwill, upon the long cherished design of the Jews to redeem and recapture the Holy Land. It is a scheme such as has never before been tried in history, for here colonists are seeking to found a mother country. Another paper of importance is contributed by Gen. Ballington Booth, and entitled "The Personal Appeal of the Volunteers."

Some Beautiful Books.

Doubleday, Page & Co., about December 1, publish several handsome pieces of book-making. One is "The Writing of Colonel William Byrd, 1674-1744," which has been erroneously announced as the "Memories," whereas, as a matter of fact, the work includes all of the writings of this witty and accomplished Virginian, even many of his letters. The De Vinne Press has been engaged to produce a volume quite befitting this rare contribution of American letters.

Another is A. G. Wallihan's "Camera Shots at Big Game," for which Theodore Roosevelt has written a telling introduction. The cover of the volume is a most interesting one on which will be shown one of the best "shots" at a large elk in close quarters. The book itself will be of a deluxe sort with many of the best pictures in large photograph, which, in the making and experimenting for results have delayed the publication for several months. As it is, the work will be issued in practically a limited edition for the holiday trade.

Two limited editions of "The Furture of Our Forefathers" just now appearing in the regular edition, will also be published shortly; one on large hand-made paper, with headpieces and initials colored by hand, will be of one hundred copies; and the other, an edition de luxe on Japan paper, with two hand-colored plates, will be of fifty copies.

Folly in Fairyland.

The clever ingenuity of Carolyn Wells was never better evidenced in her work, than in her latest juvenile venture, "Folly in Fairyland."

If a little girl or boy who loves fables (and what child doesn't) wants to go to fairyland, and find out how they live there, what their houses are like, and what they do to amuse themselves, just read this book and be transported into the very heart of Fairyland itself.

Folly (whose full name was Florinda) went there, and her adventures are graphically told. Unlike "Alice in Wonderland," she doesn't meet queer, unusual creatures, but she visited dear old Queen of Hearts in her palaces, and piloted by "Puss and Boots," traveled over the whole realm, and became well acquainted with the heroes and heroines of Fairyland in their own homes.

And this delightful matter told in Miss Wells' own crisp and original manner, with frequent interspersions of her rhythmic, jingly rhymes, goes to make up the gayest, jolliest child's book of the season. Henry Altman Company, Philadelphia.

THE NEW CONGRESS OPENS WORK TODAY

Both Branches Strongly Republican—Several Vacant Seats in Senate—Old Members Re-elected.

The fifty-seventh congress chosen last year on the date of the presidential election, begins the work of its first session on Monday, December 2. Like its predecessor, the fifty-sixth congress, it is strongly republican. Both branches indeed of the new congress have a slight increased republican majority. In round figures there are about 200 republicans and 150 democrats in the house of representatives the populists and silverites numbering only 6 or 8.

In the senate there are several vacant seats, and Delaware, notably, is without representation owing to the protracted deadlock in the legislature caused by the persistent fight for and against Addicks. A full senate consists of 90 members, and the republicans have a working plurality of about 20.

An unusually large proportion of the members of the last house of representatives have been re-elected. For example, all but one of Indiana's 13 members belonged to the last congress. There is only one new member in Iowa's delegation of 11. In Missouri's 15 seats there is not a single change. The delegations from Maine and Connecticut, from Georgia and Louisiana, from New Jersey and Minnesota, remain exactly as in the fifty-sixth congress.

Eleven out of the 12 Michigan members are re-elected, and in a number of other states there are only one or two changes. Generally speaking the very strong republican states of the North and the solid democratic states of the South have returned their old representatives. But changes are more numerous in the states where the parties are somewhat more evenly divided.

Thus, New York's delegation of 34 members contains 12 men who did not sit in the last congress and there are 9 new members from Ohio in a total delegation of 21. Illinois has 6 new members in a total of 22, and Pennsylvania 8 or 9, in a delegation of 30.

HORSE THIEF HELD AT EVANSVILLE

L. B. St. John Confesses to Stealing Six Head of Horses at Highmore, S. D.

Evansville, Wis., Dec. 2.—(Special) Chief of Police Broughton and Asst. Gillman Saturday arrested L. B. St. John charged with stealing six head of horses near Highmore, S. D. Word was received by the officers about a week ago in regard to this and they at once suspected St. John, who has been working with the water works gang here about three weeks. When placed under arrest he denied all knowledge of the affair but after being subjected to the "sweat-box" system for some time he weakened and admitted his guilt.

He said that about the 23rd of October he and J. L. Van Hoozen, who lives at Highmore, S. D., stole six head of horses about three or four miles from Highmore. They succeeded in getting the horses about 200 miles away where the whole bunch got away from them during the night. He stated that they traveled day times and camped at night on the prairies. After the horses got away from him according to his story Van Hoozen left him, going to Minnesota lake to get some provisions and that is the last he has seen of him.

He walked one day for him to return and finally made up his mind that Van Hoozen had deserted him. St. John and Van Hoozen had ponies of their own that did not get away so he rode on to Wells, Minn., where he sold his pony, saddle and bridle for $10.00 and took the train for Wisconsin.

He says Van Hoozen has stolen horses before and that he was induced by him to go into the job. He claims he has never been in any trouble before. When arrested he had a quantity of ammunition for a 32 calibre revolver. When questioned where the revolver was he told and it was secured.

Sheriff A. D. Winan, of Hyde Co., S. D., was notified. He immediately wired back to hold the prisoner until he arrived with requisition papers.

USE OIL IN SCHOOL SWEEPING.

Health Department Decides on Means to Reduce Danger From Microbes. Investigations by the health department have shown that the use of oil in sweeping will lessen the dangers in the school room of contagion from germs circulating in the air, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. The investigation was asked for a month ago. It will be completed Monday or Tuesday and the report sent to the school board, which will select upon the report the most desirable method of sweeping to be employed in the city schools.

The health department proceeded to investigate the securing dust from sweepings, first after oil had been used, then after damp sawdust and other materials and also before sweeping. The dust was then developed and several millions of microbes were found altogether, which were classified. The report will contain a list of the kinds of germs found in this gathering.

It was found that the use of oil either with a brush, or by the patent device, employed at one sweeping, reduces the rise of dust to a minimum, and it is also said that half an hour after the sweeping the odor is all gone. It was assumed that the disease germs are a large element in the make-up of the dry dust in school rooms.

Mrs. W. H. Whalen and children of Oakkosh, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brazzel.

WHAT GOES UP

Must Come Down

Nothing is more certain than that the use of so called tonics, stimulants and medicines, which depend upon alcohol for their effect, is injurious to health in the long run.

What goes up must come down and the elevation of spirits, the temporary exhilaration resulting from a dose of medicine containing alcohol, will certainly be followed in a few hours by a corresponding depression to relieve which another dose must be taken.

In other words, many liquid patent medicines derive their effect entirely from the alcohol they contain.

Alcohol and medicines containing it, are temporary stimulants and not in any sense a true tonic. In fact it is doubtful if any medicine or drug is a real tonic.

A true tonic is something which will replenish, build up the exhausted nervous system and wasted tissues of the body, something that will enrich the blood and endow it with the proper proportions of red and white corpuscles, which will prevent or destroy disease germs. This is what a real tonic should do, and no drug or alcoholic stimulant will do it.

The only true tonic in nature is wholesome food, thoroughly digested. Every particle of nervous energy, every minute muscle, fibre and drop of blood is created daily from the food we digest.

The mere eating of food has little to do with the repair of waste tissue but the perfect digestion of the food eaten has everything to do with it.

The reason so few people have perfect digestion is because from wrong habits of living the stomach has gradually lost the power to secrete the gastric juice, peptones and acids in sufficient quantity.

To cure indigestion and stomach troubles it is necessary to take after meals some harmless preparation which will supply the natural peptone and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and probably the best preparation of this character is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which may be found in every drug store and which contain in pleasant palatable form, the wholesome peptone and diastase which nature requires for prompt digestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are equally valuable for little children as for adults, as they contain nothing harmful or stimulating but only the natural digestives.

One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and they are in every sense a genuine tonic because they bring about the only natural way a restorative of nerve power, a building up of lost tissue and appetite, in the only way it can be done, by the digestion and assimilation of wholesome food.

Builds up the blood; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved, contrary to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only cure known for the disease. It is sold internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any cure it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The production of "Quo Vadis" under the direction of F. C. Whitney and Edwin Knowles, which is to be placed on view in this city on Thursday, December 5, is likely to arouse interest far beyond the ordinary, for the theme of the play is one that appeals to a large proportion of the public who seldom visit a theater, as well as to every habitue.

The story of "Her Lord and Master," the new play which Herbert Keely and Edie Shannon are to produce here, deals with an international marriage between a typical American girl and an English Lord, the nature and characters of whom are the entire opposite to each other. New ideas and old traditions do not always mix and the union of two such natures means storms but love is an anodyne for both, which wins in the end, and transforms the wife from a self-willed girl to a womanly woman, who realizes that it is "better to love than to be loved better, better to serve than to be served."

Wrapper News

We have an overstock of wrappers. Many of them have only been in the store a few weeks. At our regular prices they are very good values,—in fact the best obtainable. Notice the reductions:

$1.50 Wrappers for $1.35.

$1.75 Wrappers for $1.45.

$2.00 Wrappers for $1.65.

Sizes 32 to 46, in calico, percale and flannelette.

Zaza Quiltings.

We offer 50 pieces of comforter prints, correct imitation of hand pieced comforters such as our grandmothers made. The cloth is 31 inches wide,—fine and heavy; many decided novelties; price 10c.

Holdfast Over-Gaiters.

Just the thing for cold weather and a great improvement over the old style knit leggings. We have them in Melton, Kersey and Silk, black and fancy.

For Women, at $1.25 and $1.50.

For Misses, in Kersey, at $1.25.

For Girls, in Melton, at 85c.

For Children, in Melton, at 50c.

For Boys, in Canvas, at 85c.

They are made with the patent tie which slips under the shoe and are laced up on the side, over hooks, thus buttons are done away with. Can be slipped off in a jiffy.

For Dens and Cosy Corners

In our upholstery section in south store we show an immense collection of Oriental Novelties for decorating purposes. Hundreds of creations in drapes, pillow tops, cushions, couch covers, table covers, small pieces, and yard goods that are not high.

WAR RELICS—Officers' Swords, 40 inches long, in leather scabbards, brass mounted, with brass hilt and shield, made of finest steel have been in use and are in very good condition.—A pair of these swords would make a very desirable holiday present—$1.50.

Anatolia Rugs

Beautiful styles direct from the Orient. They are not only used for rugs but are quite the thing for table covers. The sizes are 1 ft. 6 in. x 3 2, 1 10x3 1.9x2.9, 2x2.4, 1.9x2.3, 1.10x2 6, &c., at $5.00 to $10.

To please the little folks we will give to every mother who has a little girl and who purchases Munsing Underwear, for herself or any of the family, a doll's silk shirt made by the manufacturers of The Munsing Underwear. This applies only on purchases from December 2nd.

Where are you going my pretty maid?
I'm going to "Bostwick's" sir, she said.
And why today my little maid?
To get my little dolly a vest she said.

New Silk Umbrellas

Just received a large assortment of silk umbrellas for holiday selling. Particular attention was given to selecting pretty handles, although quality was not lost sight of.

Our $1.00 umbrellas are the best ever offered at the price. All prices above $1.00 to $6.00. At $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, rare values.

For Men we have many excellent numbers. Select one or more now for Christmas while our stock is so complete.

FURS

We keep a little ahead of the procession. Have received several lots of scarfs, sets, nearseal jackets, misses' and children's sets, &c., recently. One of the greatest stocks of furs in the northwest right at your door. We take orders for genuine seal coats and guarantee a saving of 75 to 100 dollars. Any woman ordering a seal coat is fully protected as we have a thoroughly reliable manufacturer back of us. Our experience with seal garments has been eminently satisfactory.

Helfeld Quits Populists.

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 2.—United States Senator Henry Helfeld of this state has addressed a letter to D. H. Andrews of this city, chairman of the populist state central committee, announcing his withdrawal from the populist party and his affiliation with the democratic party. The letter says both democratic and people's parties now are striving for the same purpose and should combine. He asks Mr. Andrews to call the state committee together, expressing the hope that it will approve his action and unite with him in an affiliation with the dominant element of the democratic party. Chairman Andrews indicated that he did not approve of Senator Helfeld's action, and that he would reply to the senator's letter instead of calling the committee together.

Probate Judge Arrested.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 2.—On the charge of executing pension vouchers in the absence of pensioners and acknowledging that applicants personally applied before him when in fact they did not, Probate Judge R. W. Tannhill of Holmes county was arrested and brought to Cleveland before the United States court. United States Commissioner Stage at the hearing bound Judge Tannhill over to the next term of court on $500 bail. For some time the government officials have suspected that there were irregularities in the executing of pension vouchers all over the country and has started an investigation. Judge Tannhill protests that he is innocent and gave bail.

Ferguson Guilty of Murder.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2.—The jury at Jacksonville, in the case of William Webb Ferguson, charged with the murder of Dr. J. L. Barnes of Monticello, by poisoning him in the Central hospital for the insane at Jacksonville last May, at the alleged instigation of Mrs. Mamie Barnes, the wife of Dr. Barnes, and Mrs. McWilliams, mother of Mrs. Barnes, returned a verdict at 2:40 o'clock a. m. after being out seven hours, finding Ferguson guilty of murder, and fixing his punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary. Ferguson, while waiting in the courtroom for the verdict of the jury, remarked to one of his jailers: "I expect to get thirty years in the penitentiary."

Cripple Creek Output Big.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 2.—Cripple Creek's November gold production reached $2,510,123, against $1,813,800 for November, 1900. The advance is proportional to this year's record as compared with last year's. The total for 1901 to date is $23,490,123. December's record will probably surpass November's, bringing the year's total close to $26,500,000. The total product of the camp to date exceeds $112,000,000.

Would Free the Filipinos.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 2.—A meeting of the anti-imperialists was held at Wesleyan hall at 3 o'clock p. m. George S. Boutwell presided. The speakers were: Irving Winslow and Rev. A. A. Berle. Dr. Francis E. Abbott proposed resolutions calling upon congress to acknowledge the absolute independence of the Filipinos and invite them to establish a republic. The resolutions were adopted.

Found Guilty of Murder.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 2.—Joseph Ellsworth Hinkle, aged 30 years, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and will be sentenced to be hanged during the present term of the Peoria circuit court. Hinkle murdered his wife, Etta Hinkle, on the afternoon of September 18 by stabbing her nine times with a pocket knife and then attempted suicide by cutting his throat.

Henry J. Baumgartner Dead.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 2.—Henry J. Baumgartner, who was the republican candidate for mayor last year, died suddenly at his home of heart disease while he was feeding his pigeons. He was 55 years of age and had been in public life here since 1879, when he was first elected to the common council. He was known as "the honest alderman."

Confirms Death Sentence.

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Roosevelt has confirmed a sentence of death imposed by a general court-martial convened at Nueva Caceres, Philippine Islands, upon Private Daniel Healy, company C, twenty-fifth infantry, who was tried for and found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged.

Five Boers Killed.

Dec. 2.—Thirty Boers attempted to cross the railway between Musking and Vryburg. An armored train arrived and a skirmish took place in which five Boers were killed and a number wounded. Later forty burghers succeeded in crossing the railway near Pontfontein, going west.

Did You Ever Picture To Yourself

That the difference in price of ready made clothing and our TAILOR MADE isn't as great as the difference in the clothes themselves.

The Difference In Fit. The Making and Wear.

You can see it across the street. If you like style and individuality in clothes you will like ours. Preaching on the qualities of our offerings may not convince you unless you call and investigate, that a confident statement.

FEW LOST IN FERRY WRECK

Number of Victims at San Francisco in Dispute.

PROBABLY TWENTY ARE DEAD.

Managers of the San Rafael, Which Sank After Colliding with Sausalito, Claim Not More Than Three Were Drowned—Heroic Act by Fireman.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 2.—Although the managers of the San Rafael ferryboat declare that not more than two or three lives were lost by the collision Saturday night with the ferryboat Sausalito, it is plain from the accounts of several men who were on board that from ten to twenty perished. The earlier reports said fifty were dead. The work of listing those who are missing cannot be done at once, as most of those who were lost are believed to be workmen. They will not be missed until they fail to show up at their work. The ticket collector admits there were over 250 people on board, and 225 of these have been accounted for. Several on board declare there must have been 300 passengers, as the boat had been delayed in starting by the fog. The list of dead, as far as can be given, is as follows: W. G. Crandall, cashier for Long Ship company, San Francisco; G. T. Treadway, waiter on San Rafael; Waller, little son of Mrs. of Ross station; unknown man, seen to sink by Dr. Fitch. The most seriously injured was "Jimmy" McCue, a pioneer stage driver and horse trainer. He was eating in the restaurant and was pinned to the wall by the collision, having one arm broken and one ear nearly torn off. Despite these injuries, he saved several women. He will recover. There is a discrepancy in the statements of Captain Tribble of the Sausalito and of Captain McKenzie of the San Rafael concerning the circumstances immediately preceding the collision. Captain Tribble says the vessels bore on each other's port bows when first sighting each other, while Captain McKenzie says it was the starboard bow. Of the many heroic stories told in connection with the accident is one relating to Fireman Glew of the Sausalito. As the San Rafael was sinking it was remembered that its fires were still burning and its boilers still hot. There was immediate danger of a terrible explosion that would have destroyed both vessels. Without hesitation Glew volunteered to dive into the hull and shut off the steam. Diving through the submerged boiler room, he reached the valves and shut off the steam, coming out half suffocated.

Fire consumed the change house at the Barnum mine of the Cleveland Cliffs company, Ishpeming, Mich., yesterday. Loss, $3,000; fully insured.

Jesse Dixon, a well-known farmer and stockman of Platt Center, Neb., while watching the operation of a corn-sheller on his farm, was drawn into the feeder and lost both his arms. He died from shock and loss of blood.

Judge Kenyon of Webster City, Iowa, has rendered his decision in the Fielder vs. Illinois Central Railroad company case, finding for the company. Fielder, formerly of Bloomington, Ill., was killed on the crossing by the cars, and his heirs sued the company for $10,000.

Officers of the railroads entering Pittsburg assert that they are not suffering any inconvenience because of the switchmen's strike; that the places of the workmen who are out are rapidly being filled. The strikers say traffic is much delayed and that they have secured 200 recruits within the last twenty-four hours.

Jacob Hottinger, aged 38, a Baltimore & Ohio laborer, shot and killed himself at Newark, Ohio. He was the father of three children. Domestic trouble is the alleged cause.

James Tate, an engineer, was killed at Muskegon, Mich., by the bursting of a flywheel at the plant of the Central Paper company. The building was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Five Persons Are Cremated.

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 2.—Shortly after 2 o'clock a. m. five persons, a mother and her four children, perished in a fire which destroyed their home at Gwyn station, on the Wopsonook railroad, three miles north of this city. The husband escaped with severe injuries. The dead are: Mrs. Mary C. Burk, 42 years old; Adam G. Burk, 16; Mary E. Burk, 13; Joanna, 11; Joseph Victor, 8 years.

Madison Mine No. 2 Burned.

Edwardsville, Ill., Dec. 2.—Madison mine, No. 2, at Glen Carbon, one of the Illinois Central properties, burned Sunday, entailing a loss of $75,000. Four hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment.

Refuses to Free a Judge.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 2.—Judge Amos M. Thayer of the United States district court sitting in chambers has decided that Judge S. C. Peden was not entitled to release. He therefore directed the discharge of the writ of habeas corpus which he had issued a week ago, when Judge Peden announced his willingness to abide by the mandate of the court ordering a special tax levy. Judge Peden is one of the two St. Clair county, Missouri, judges imprisoned for contempt of court for not making a tax levy ordered to pay a certain judgment.

Offers New Suffrage Plan.
Richmond, Va., Dec. 2.—Another suffrage plan was presented in the constitutional convention by Mr. Parks of Page county, requiring the payment of poll tax six months prior to the election; requiring all voters who can read and write to prepare ballots; prohibiting any person from registering one year after the adoption of the constitution who cannot read and write; causing negroes to be intelligible for office, and disfranchising all persons convicted of bribery or attempted bribery.

Plots Body in a Cistern.
Brazil, Ind., Dec. 2.—The finding of the body of Mrs. Julia Mullinix in the cistern at her father's house, west of here, which was thought to be a case of suicide caused by her mourning over the accidental death of her husband a year ago, may develop into a sensation. Coroner Merzhan upon examining the body found no water in the lungs. It was found floating on the water, which induces the coroner to believe the woman was dead before striking the water. A thorough investigation will be made.

Grounds for War Ominous.
London, Dec. 2.—The Buller demonstration in Hyde Park today was a tame affair. There was a tremendous crowd of people present, the number being estimated at nearly 100,000, but most of them were attracted by curiosity and not with any special desire to show sympathy with the general. Opposite the war office there was considerable groaning and cries of "Shame" from the men in the procession, but otherwise the proceedings were without incident.

Will Sue Pullman Estate.
San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 2.—Mrs. George M. Pullman, Jr., has retained an attorney of this city to begin suit for her husband's share of the Pullman estate. She will accompany the body to the East in defiance of her mother-in-law's wishes. Pullman's will giving his wife all his estate, it is said, is open to suspicion of illegality. His friends say he was passionately enamored of Mrs. Brazzelle and waited impatiently two years to secure his divorce. Two days after he was free he married her in Nevada.

Court Bars Out Strikers.
Zanesville, Ohio, Dec. 2.—In the common pleas court Judge A. A. Frazier granted a temporary injunction to the Brown Manufacturing company to restrain about 150 strikers from loitering about the factory, from picketing or patrolling or from gathering at the approaches to the factory and from "in any manner interfering with the employees of the company." The strike was caused by a refusal to recognize the unions. About 300 employees are at work now.

Opera House Block Burned.
Petersburg, Ill., Dec. 2.—The Opera House block at Greenville was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss exceeding $21,000, on which there was $15,000 insurance. The building was owned by Mrs. George Fisher of Gibson City, Ill., and was valued at $6,000. It was insured for $3,500. The other losers are: F. L. Gordner, general merchandise, $12,000; Lee Blaine, dentist, $2,500; Misses McCleary and Reeves, millinery, $500.

Neill and Smith Draw.
Portland, Ore., Dec. 2.—Al Neill of San Francisco and "Mysterious" Billy Smith of Portland fought twenty rounds to a draw at the exposition building. Neill proved himself a clever boxer, but his blows lacked force. He fought an aggressive fight all the way through and jabbed Smith with his left continually. Smith was wild and Neill cleverly blocked his rushes. Both men left the ring at the close of the fight without a scratch.

Jenious Man Murders Wife.
Galena, Kan., Dec. 2.—After a quarrel at their home here Charles Duncle shot and killed his wife Alice and shot a young man who boarded at the house through the head, producing a slight wound. Jenious over the boarder is supposed to have led to the shooting. Duncle escaped.

WINDS DISTRIBUTE GERMS.

Cases of Tetanus in Camden, N. J., Said to Be Due to Peculiar Conditions.

New York, Dec. 2.—A special to the Herald from Camden, N. J., says the special committee of experts appointed by the Camden board of health to make a thorough investigation of the cases of tetanus has just made a report to that body asserting that not a single case of lockjaw has resulted from injection of vaccine virus. Every one has been due, it finds, to the atmospheric and telluric conditions which have prevailed during the last six weeks. There had been a long period of dry weather with high winds, so that tetanus germs, says the committee, which have their normal habitation in the earth dust and dirt of stables, had been constantly distributed in the atmosphere.

"Stolen" Money Was Hidden.
City of Mexico, Dec. 2.—About a year ago robbers entered the house of an elderly woman named Velasquez and her widowed daughter, Senora Campello, and it is charged, stole $50,000. The police arrested five men, who were tried and sentenced to prison for long terms.

It now appears the affair was a plot to prevent the money being left to a church. It is alleged a woman, who is a member of Senora Velasquez' family, planned the robbery, employing a friend, under a promise of reward, to get men to pretend to steal the money. The robbers penetrated the house and secured a small amount of money and jewelry, the larger sum having been hidden. One of the men who was employed to engineer the supposed steal, not receiving the reward, confessed, and this led to the police searching the house and finding the $50,000. The money was taken away and deposited in the National Bank of Mexico. The men now in prison expect a new trial and mitigated sentences. The woman who is said to have planned the robbery has been arrested and will be further questioned. Sensational developments are expected.

War Ends on the Isthmus.

Colon, Dec. 2.—The liberal forces here surrendered yesterday afternoon to the Colombian government and war on the Isthmus is at an end. Control of the city, which was given over to Capt. Perry of the Iowa yesterday morning by the liberals, was transferred to Gen. Alban and other government officials in the afternoon, in the presence of Capt. Perry and the American troops. Senor Delarosa, who made the surrender for the liberals, on handing his sword to Gen. Alban said:

"I accept the conditions of the treaty to safeguard the lives and liberty of my soldiers in Colon. As for my brother and myself, we personally decline to accept the conditions of this treaty."

Capt. Perry at once transferred control of the city of Colon to Gen. Alban. The marine guards were withdrawn from all public buildings, the Iowa's men returning to Panama. A small detachment of American blue jackets remained on shore to guard the railway property.

British Toasts Army Cambion.

London, Dec. 2.—Amusement has been caused among the members of the diplomatic corps by what is termed the French ambassador's ordeal at the Thanksgiving dinner given under the auspices of the American society in London. Throughout the evening M. Cambion was obliged to listen to perverted expressions of Anglo-American brotherhood, which, toward the end of the dinner, developed into enthusiastic prophecies that the world would be controlled by English-speaking peoples without a single reference to France except by Henry White, United States charge d'affaires, who, with a tactful utterance, officially disowned this thoughtless treatment of the chief guest and got out himself from what might have been an awkward predicament.

The affair has created no little annoyance to the American embassy.

Venezuelan Crisis Expressed.

Washington, Dec. 2.—In diplomatic circles here it is believed that Venezuela's recent dealings with other powers may lead to an international crisis in the near future. This fact is emphasized by the breaking of relations by Colombia. President Castro is held responsible for the trouble.

Only recently matters came near the breaking point with the United States over the rescinding of the Bermuda asphalt concession, which led to the recall of Minister Loomis. Germany has also scores to settle with Castro, who has been playing dictator since he captured the government by force of arms.

It is now believed that Castro is seeking the overthrow of Colombia and it remains to be seen how far the United States will allow him to go in carrying out this policy.

CANCER A PRICE THAT TELLS

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor. For Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance—or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows: A small pimple came on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but would not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when it healed and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. Send for our free book on Cancer, containing valuable and interesting information about this disease, and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

TWO BULLDOG SHIPS

THE BROOKLYN AND THE OREGON
IN THE BATTLE OF SANTIAGO.Captain Cook and Captain Clark Had Their Vessels in the Thick of It
From Start to Finish—Their Stories
Before the Schley Court.

[Copyright, 1901, by G. L. Kilmer.]

History will be the better in many ways for the Schley court of inquiry. If battles must be fought and honor awarded for victory, the people who pay the cost wish at least the satisfaction of knowing just where the honors belong. It has been shown to the court by a slow piling up of evidence that not the fleet, not the flying squadron as a whole, but a battleship and a cruiser alone, made certain the destruction of Cervera. At the critical time "Fighting Bob" Evans and Jack Phillip were not where they could do the most good. No censure can be given for this unfortunate situation, but the truth is clear that the Brooklyn and the Oregon compelled the Spanish ships, one after another, to run upon the beach and strike their flags.

Cervera's vessels were cruisers, all faster than the American battleships. The Brooklyn alone was able at first to keep within range of the Spaniards, and but for her bulldog tenacity, her growing speed and her biting fire the flying Oquendo, Vizcaya and Colon would have got out into open sea and scattered so that it would have been impossible for the slow battleships to head them off. At the most, with good fortune on their side, the Brooklyn and Oregon could have run down but one Spaniard each in open sea. The rest would have got away. It was due to the Brooklyn that the initial movement of Cervera seaward was headed off. The foremost Spaniards laid their course across that of the American cruiser, and even if they did not intend to ram her they did intend to batter her with the best they had in their guns and to get past her into the open sea. Captain Cook's incessant and accurate fire of five inch shells warned the Spaniards that even if they got to sea it would be with their hulls full of holes, and that would mean the death of every man and officer on board.

The Spaniards ran their ships on the beach solely to save their lives. It was arranged before Cervera started out of Santiago harbor that morning that his fleet would cut through the American line and get to sea if possible. Failing in that, they would fight just so long as they had a fighting chance and then make for shore. The Brooklyn and Oregon headed off the seaward movement and sent the Spaniards ashore, reduced to helpless wrecks.

And the testimony by which history is thus set right is not solely that of the officers of the Brooklyn and Oregon. What they had to say about the fighting of this or that ship, including their own, had to be dragged out of them by searching questions in which not only the counsel for both sides, but the court itself, took part. The result was a complete and unbiased history of the remarkable naval battle of July 3, 1898, spread upon the minutes of the court.

One of the impartial witnesses was the officer of the little scoutship Vixen, which was right on the spot, but too small to amount to anything against Spanish cruisers. The officers could not do better than to keep track of the fight. All through the Vixen kept up with the Oregon and the Brooklyn, and her executive officer declared that when the first Spaniard, the Maria Teresa, was sent ashore the Brooklyn and the Oregon were the only ships in sight. This was only the beginning of the end. The log of the Indiana shows that in the chase after the remaining Spaniards that ship was left behind, and the navigator of the Iowa, "Fighting Bob's" ship, testified that she made only nine or ten knots that day, whereas eighteen knots were necessary to bring her into the fight and keep her there.

With respect to the work of the Brooklyn and the Oregon, the testimony of the officers of the respective ships is impartial as bearing upon each other. Captain Clark of the Oregon told the story of the crisis of the fight when Cervera got sea room and started to run away. Says he: "The Spaniards turned to the westward, breaking through our line or crossing it, and our ships swung off to the westward in pursuit. Both sides opened fire promptly and fired rapidly. Dense smoke obscured the vessels, making it difficult to distinguish them. The Oregon ran between the Iowa and the Texas and the next ships to the westward in our line. Soon afterward we discovered four Spanish ships ahead apparently uninjured at the time. They had galloped so much ground that I believed they had been successful in attempting to escape, but it was soon evident that we were gaining, at least on one of them, which afterward proved to be the Maria Teresa, the flagship, and I thought we should bring her to close action, but might be exposed to the concentrated fire of all the ships.

"Just then the smoke lifted or broke away to the left, and I discovered the Brooklyn. She was well forward on our port beam and broadside to the enemy's fleet. Her course was perhaps a little divergent to ours because the Oregon was attempting to draw upon the Teresa. But the Brooklyn and Oregon maintained this relative position, bow and quarter, approximately to the end of the battle, the Brooklyn steaming straight ahead, as nearly as I could judge, and engaging any and all the Spanish ships, the Oregon endeavoring to come to close action with the sternmost one, and, when she was driven out of action and pointed on the beach, then pushed on for the next ahead and so on till the entire fleet was driven ashore, burning or sinking."

When questioned as to details, Captain Clark said that when the smoke lifted and disclosed to his view the Brooklyn on her westward course she was engaged with all four of the Spaniards. Said he: "It made a deep impression upon me to find her there, and I felt that we should mutually sustain each other. I felt that a battleship was needed and that we should be there together."

Speaking of the movements of the Iowa, Captain Clark said: "At first she seemed to be steaming faster than we, and I thought she was gaining ground and would get ahead of us. Later I saw her again so near I was fearful the two ships would collide. Consequently I gave the order, 'Hard to starboard,' and cleared her. I never saw the Iowa again during the action." With regard to firing the thirteen inch shells, those "railroad trains" which did so much to secure, if not to insure, the Colof especially, Captain Clark says that he did this on his own responsibility, without regard to the signal from the Brooklyn. "Well done, Oregon!" is a verdict every one acquainted with Captain Clark's story of her part in the fight will respond to heartily.

Captain Cook's story of the fighting of the Brooklyn is equally plain and convincing as that of Captain Clark. "When I first saw the fleet [Cervera's]," said he, "they were heading southwest and seemed to be coming straight for the interval between the Brooklyn and Texas. I went into the conning tower and directed the helmsman. I told him what I wanted to do was to keep straight for the fleet [the Spaniards]. They wavered a little. Sometimes they turned one way and then another. We shifted helm once or twice, but very little indeed, and finally when we were getting up fairly close, say between 1,500 and 2,000 yards, it seemed to me clear that they wanted to pass between the Texas and the Brooklyn. The Texas was well on our starboard helm, and she was headed to the northward and westward. We were well to the westward and headed to the northeast. The Spanish fleet was coming straight for us. We made a complete turn, a very quick turn, until we came around and paralleled the fleet on the other side. Then we had the Vizcaya on our starboard bow, and about abreast was the Oquendo and then the Colon. At that time I thought it was the Vizcaya, but I soon discovered this vessel was dropping out and heading for the beach. That was about the hottest time of the action. It was a critical time.

CAPTAIN CHARLES E. CLARK.
[Commander of the battleship Oregon at Santiago.]

"I looked and could see nothing but smoke astern, and vessels seemed enveloped in this smoke. I could not understand how we got there. They [the Spaniards] were all three firing on the Brooklyn, when almost immediately, faster than I could tell it, I saw a large white bone of wave in the water, and through this smoke I saw the bow of a vessel. I exclaimed, 'What is that?' The navigator said it was the Massachusetts or something to that effect. I said she was away, and then he said, 'That is the Oregon.' I felt perfectly assured from that moment. She came up very rapidly."

"This is the simple picture, free from dramatic flourish, of the bulldog ships Brooklyn and Oregon, cut off from their slow creeping consorts and alone battling with the Spaniards, who had broken out of the harbor in spite of Sampson's precautions and were running away, firing as they ran. The Brooklyn received over three-fourths of the Spanish hits and scored over 60 per cent of the hits made by American guns upon the Spaniards.

Whenever a Spaniard went ashore the Brooklyn and Oregon turned the guns thus let free upon the next in line. When fighting was the order of the day, they fought, and when chasing and firing at long range was the proper thing, they chased and fired. Other ships might and did look after the prizes and saved the wounded victims, but the motto of Clark and Cook was, "Let no Spaniard escape!" They lived up to the motto, and the American public now knows, what was at best mere guesswork before, just how and by whom the hard fighting was done in the battle of Santiago harbor.

A Berlin florist received some days ago an order for a floral device, ornamented with a silk ribbon, upon each side of which the following inscription was directed to be placed: "Rest in Peace." To the astonishment of those concerned, when the flowers and ribbon arrived the latter was inscribed, "Rest in Peace on Both Sides."—Paris Gaulois.

He Loves Me—?

The dainty flower oracle may tell her true or false, but some day the prince will come and she'll dream the dream of home life and motherhood. In that dream she will see herself always happy, always with a smile for the husband and a kiss for the baby. What a pity to wake from such a dream,—to almost loathe her husband and hate her child, because cruel pain has blighted her body and warped her mind. How many a woman has had this sad awakening from her dreams of home and love! There's help and healing for every woman who suffers from womanly diseases, caused by girlish ignorance, wifely neglect or the strain of maternity. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It heals diseases of the delicate organs, practically does away with the pains of maternity and gives the nursing mother vigor and vitality.

"Two years ago," writes Mrs. Kattie Aulker, of 744 Pat Street, Alliance, Ohio, "I used two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and in April a nice baby was born, before the doctor came. I was not very sick. Baby is now fourteen months old and weighs 30 pounds. Before commencing Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I had to vomit every day but after I got the medicine, from the first spoonful that I took, I stopped vomiting. It is a God-send for women."

When a laxative is needed, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets with "Favorite Prescription."

Says Chicago Saw Plades.
San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 2.—Director Campbell of the Lick observatory, who has made a thorough search of the heavens for the phenomenon witnessed at Chicago on Thursday night, failed to find a trace of a comet. He says: "What the people of Chicago saw may have been the bright trail left by a meteor. I myself have watched such trails for as much as twenty minutes before they wholly disappeared. It is more probable, though, that what they saw was the constellation known as the Pleiades, thinly veiled by atmospheric conditions. It so happens that the Pleiades are now in exactly the location in the heavens described by the dispatches."

Pleasant Social Gathering
On Saturday evening, the home of Mrs. Hiram Merrill, 152 Park Place, was the scene of a pleasant social gathering. Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Harry Merrill being associated together for the second time last week in entertaining their friends. A five o'clock tea was the pleasant form of entertainment planned by the hostesses for their guests and it was one of the most charming teas given this season. The parlors were handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations and the hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Twing Wiggin, Chicago.

The dainty supper was prettily served by Misses Louise Merrill, Edna Sutherland, Jennie Boomer, Marjorie Mount and Eureka Kimball. In the playing of six-handed euchre, which followed, Mrs. Charles Schaller won the lucky number prize and Mrs. F. C. Burpee, the consolation prize. The delightful party was enjoyed by about seventy ladies.
